

Licence to BMJ Publishing Group Limited (“BMJ Group”) and co-owner as indicated on the journal’s website for publication

To be agreed to by the corresponding author or guarantor on behalf of all authors, (“Corresponding Author”); all authors collectively are referred to as the “Contributors”

In consideration of the BMJ Group and co-owner (“the Publishers”) considering to publish the article contained within the original manuscript which includes without limitation any diagrams, photographs, other illustrative material, video, film or any other material howsoever submitted by the Contributor(s) at any time and related to the Contribution, (“the Contribution”), certain rights are required to be granted by each different category of author(s), which are as follows:

1. For employees of the UK Crown acting in the course of their employment, a non exclusive Licence, as set out below. All provisions of this document apply. The non exclusivity relates to the original submitted manuscript video, films, images, photographs, diagrams and/or illustrative material only.
2. For employees of the US Federal Government acting in the course of their employment, no copyright exists and the Contribution is in the public domain so no licence is required to be granted. The Author Warranties below apply (excluding 1.iii).
3. For all other authors, an exclusive Licence, as set out below. All provisions of this document apply.

NB where a Contribution is a multi authored work, each author’s element of the Contribution will be dealt with in accordance with 1, 2 or 3 above, as applicable.

The licence

The Licence granted in accordance with 1 or 3 above is:

A worldwide licence to the Publishers and its licensees in perpetuity (subject to the Reversion of Rights set out below), in all forms, formats and media (whether known now or created in the future), to i) publish, reproduce, distribute, display and store the Contribution, ii) translate the Contribution into other languages, create adaptations, reprints, include within collections and create summaries, extracts and/or, abstracts of the Contribution and convert or allow conversion into any format including without limitation audio, iii) create any other derivative work(s) based in whole or part on the Contribution, iv) to exploit all subsidiary rights that currently exist or as may exist in the future in the Contribution, v) the inclusion of electronic links from the Contribution to third party material where-ever it may be located; and, vi) licence any third party to do any or all of the above.

If you and/or any co-author’s employer own the copyright to the Contribution, you must obtain in writing, the relevant employers’ consent to grant the licence and agree to all obligations herein. The author(s) hereby agree that, in the event that the BMJ Group and/or co-owner sell the whole or part of its journal business to any third party, the benefit and the burden of the Licence contained herein shall be assigned to that third party.

Additional rights and obligations

The author(s) (and their employers as applicable), hereby authorise the Publishers to take such steps as they consider necessary at their own expense in the copyright owner’s name and on their behalf, if they believe that a third party is infringing or is likely to infringe copyright or the rights granted to the Publishers herein in the Contribution without further recourse to the copyright owner(s).

For Unlocked articles (as defined below), the Publishers expressly agree to place the published Contribution for display on PubMed Central (including their international mirror sites) promptly after allocation of an issue number and thereafter publication, without extra charge for this deposit to the authors or their employers (provided PubMed Central does not charge the Publishers), which will include any Publisher supplied amendments or retractions.

“Unlocked” means where the author or their employer or other institution has agreed with the Publishers that this Contribution should be considered an Open Access contribution and has paid the Publishers the standard rate in force.

“Locked” articles are all other articles including Research Funded articles.

“Research Funded” articles are Locked Articles but which have been funded wholly or substantially by a funding organisation listed on our manuscript submission website under “Recognised Funders.”

The author(s) acknowledge and accept that BMJ Group may make additional changes to the Contribution as considered necessary in accordance with standard editorial processes whether before or after publication. The Corresponding Author will usually see proofs for their Contribution and every effort will be made to consult with the Corresponding Author if substantial alterations are made. The BMJ Group may also retract or publish a correction or other notice when it considers this appropriate for legal or editorial reasons and this shall be at its absolute discretion which shall be exercised reasonably.

Reversion of rights

If the Contribution is not published in the print or electronic versions of the Journal or any other Publishers’ products within 12 months of final acceptance (or as otherwise agreed in writing), any Licence granted herein shall automatically terminate and all rights shall revert to the copyright owner. The Publishers may keep a copy of the Contribution as a record (including via any contractor).

Rights granted to owners of the contribution

Ownership of copyright remains with the author(s) or their employers if they are acting in the course of their employment. All rights not expressly granted are, subject to the Licence terms, reserved by the Publishers. In return for the grant of the Licence herein, the copyright owner(s) shall have the following rights for non-Commercial Use (unless otherwise stated) of the Contribution:

1. The right to reproduce a reasonable number (no more than 100) print copies of the final Contribution, by copying or downloading from the Journal’s website, for personal use and to send copies to colleagues in print or electronic form provided no fee is charged and this is not done on a systematic basis (which includes via mass e-mailings).
2. The right to include the Contribution in a compilation for classroom use (course packs) to be distributed free of charge (other than for direct photocopying cost) to students at the Contributor(s)’s institution or to be stored in digital format in data rooms for access by students as part of their course work and for in house training programmes of the Contributor(s)’s employer or at seminars or conferences subject to a limit of 100 copies per conference or seminar.
3. The right to i) to post the accepted manuscript (but not the final published version of the Contribution), and the abstract of the final published Contribution on the Contributor(s)’s own and/or his/her institution’s website, 6 months after the print publication date or if not published in print, from being published online, ii) where the article is “Unlocked” for copyright owners to publish the final published Contribution and abstract, as published by the Publishers, in any media from the date of publication for non Commercial Use; and iii) for Research Funded Articles only, the right for the Contributor (s)’s to place the accepted manuscript on PubMed Central (including their international mirror sites) after an embargo period of 12 months from the date of Publication unless otherwise stated on our manuscript submission website under “Recognised Funders”.

The following statements must accompany the articles posted on the Contributor(s)’s and/or his/her institution’s website:

Locked and research funded articles acknowledgement

This article has been accepted for publication in [Contributor, please insert journal name]. The definitive copyedited, typeset version [Contributor please insert complete citation information when available] is available online at: [www. \[Contributor please insert as applicable\] .com](http://www.[Contributor please insert as applicable].com)

Unlocked article acknowledgement

This article has been accepted for publication in [Contributor please insert full citation] following peer review and can also be viewed on the journal's website at [www. \[Contributor please insert as applicable\] .com](http://www.[Contributor please insert as applicable].com)

In addition, for Unlocked articles copyright owners (and the Publishers) may allow third parties to use the Contribution in accordance with the Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial 2.0 licence – see

<http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc/2.0/> and <http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc/2.0/legalcode>

subject to ensuring that the Publishers and Journal are referenced (including a full citation), all third party rights within all images, diagrams, photographs, other illustrative material or films not owned by the authors or the Publishers are cleared independently and appropriately and all Publishers trademarks are removed from any derivative works and ensuring any translations, for which a prior translation agreement with BMJ Group has not been established, must prominently display the statement:

“This is an unofficial translation of an article that appeared in a BMJ Group publication. BMJ Group or the co-owner has not endorsed this translation.”

4. The right to publish with the necessary acknowledgement of the Publishers and the Journal, all or part of the material from the published Contribution in a book essay, position paper, or other non peer reviewed publication authored or edited by the Contributor(s)'s (which may be a Commercial Use). This does not apply to multiple Contributions in the same journal, for which permission from the Publishers must be sought.
5. The right to use selected figures and tables (of which the author or his employer owns or has licensed) and selected text (up to 300 words) from the Contribution for incorporation within another work published in print or digital format by a third party, so long as full credit is given to the Publishers and use of the parts of the Contribution is non Commercial Use.

6. The right to receive a royalty for up to 5 years from publication of 10% of any net receipts less sales commission on single orders in excess of £2000 received by the Publishers for any single Contribution reprint or translation sales to a single third party, subject however to any fee being determined (if charged) at the absolute discretion of the Publishers as may be altered from time to time. If the Publishers receive such an order for reprint sales of the Contribution, they will contact the Corresponding Author at the address given on the published Contribution to find out to whom payment should be made. Corresponding Authors have the responsibility to ensure that all authors have agreed what should be done with any such royalty payment.
